Russia Charges U. S. Is Violating Danish Sovereignty

U.S. Planes At Copenhagen Cause Charge

Airfield Being Used As Center Of Search For Missing Bomber

(BULLETIN)

COPENHAGEN, April 12.—(INS)—An unconfirmed report received at Copenhagen's Kastrop Airport late today said that wreckage—perhaps that of a missing U. S. Navy patrol bomber—has been sighted off the southeast coast of Sweden. The exact spot was not mentioned in the report.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 12.—Soviet Russia followed up its charge of an air battle between an American bomber and Russian fighter planes with a claim today that the United States is violating Danish sovereignty by concentrating aircraft at Copenhagen.

The U. S. Air Force in Europe is using Copenhagen's Kastrop Airfield for planes hunting the American Navy patrol bomber missing since Saturday with ten men aboard.

Grave View of Shooting
All Western European capitals take a grave view of the shooting incident announced by Moscow yesterday as having taken place over Latvia. Newspapers throughout the continent front-paged all developments with banner headlines.

High French foreign office officials said privately that a new phase of the "cold war" has been initiated and forecast that the Russians would react promptly to any future foreign flights over Soviet territory.

The French, as well as the British, are concerned over possible repetitions of the incident, particularly since mechanical difficulties could at any time cause pilots to lose their way and innocently provoke trouble.

U.S. Bomber Not Armed
American authorities have announced the missing navy privateer was not armed and could not have fired on Soviet planes.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, in a formal protest to the American embassy, charged that a four-engine American military plane fired on the Soviet craft Saturday over Latvia and disappeared after it was shot at in return.

(The American State Department remained silent but U. S. officials in Washington are convinced some devious motive is behind the Moscow announcement.)

(Some Washington observers believe it possible the Russians have shot down an American plane, either in Eastern Germany or in the Baltic area, and are presenting a claim of an incident over Latvia to avoid any consequences.)

The latest Soviet charge came as U. S. airmen, in cooperation with Denmark and Sweden, pressed the search for the missing navy plane with four officers and six enlisted men aboard.

The charge was made in the form of a Tass Agency dispatch from Stockholm which declared American military planes continue to arrive at the Danish airfield without giving any notice. The dispatch added:

Dr. F. L. Burton Again Named

Heads City Schools For Another Term

Dr. Frank L. Burton was again named superintendent of the New Castle school district Tuesday night when a convention of the school directors met.

His re-election was in reality not an election at all, Dr. Burton being retained as superintendent for four more years without a vote. This is for the reason that unless a school board notifies the superintendent of its intention to remove him, he remains in office for the full term. The American State Department remained silent but U. S. officials in Washington are convinced some devious motive is behind the Moscow announcement.

Dirksen Has Illinois Lead

CHICAGO, April 12.—(INS)—Former Republican Rep. Everett Dirksen today held a 3 to 1 lead over the combined opposition of two political unknowns in Illinois primary voting for the GOP U. S. senatorial nomination.

Dirksen's November opponent will be Sen. Scott Lucas, the majority floor leader who was unopposed on the Democratic ballot.

Democratic candidates, most of them unopposed, polled an estimated 743,000 ballots yesterday. Republicans, featuring the only interesting contests, garnered less than 700,000 votes. Only about 32 per cent of the state's 3,700,000 eligible voters went to the polls.

Seven incumbent Illinois congressmen, two Democrats and five Republicans, won renomination without trouble. Twenty-six candidates in other districts had no opposition.

Budenz Says He Could Name Over 400 'Reds'

MIDLAND, Mich., April 12.—(INS)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz, Senator McCarthy's "mystery witness," said today he could name over 400 "concealed communists" in the United States.

The former Daily Worker editor called to testify before a senate investigating committee next week indicated he is fearful of "naming names," however, because of the danger of libel suits and other complications.

Budenz, in Midland, Mich., on a lecture tour, refused to say anything about Owen Lattimore, about whom he will testify at the Washington hearing.

He spoke, however, of the dangerous communist activity in China and throughout the Pacific, and blasted the institute of Pacific relations, much in the manner of Sen. McCarthy's own attacks on these subjects.

This caused some observers to believe Budenz is prepared to give testimony at the Washington hearing that will at least partially support the sensational charges of Sen. McCarthy.

President Of Chile Arrives

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(INS)—The president of Chile arrives in Washington today as the guest of President Truman.

President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla, accompanied by his wife, and a group of Chilean government officials, is to land at Washington National airport in mid-afternoon after a flight from Key West, Fla., where he arrived early today.

The Chilean party flew from Santiago to Key West in President Truman's plane, the Independence, stopping briefly in Ecuador and Panama.

Bainbridge Colby Is Taken By Death

BEMUS POINT, N. Y., April 12.—(INS)—Bainbridge Colby, who served as secretary of state for President Woodrow Wilson in World War I, and later criticized America's entry in the hostilities as a mistake, died last night at his summer home.

Colby, 80, had been ill for two weeks. He was thought to be recovering from a heart attack when he succumbed.

Colby was born in New York City and served in the Civil War. He was a member of the Republican Party and was a close friend of President Truman.

Look For Devious Motive Behind Latest Soviet Move

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—United States officials are convinced today that some devious motive is behind the Moscow announcement that Russian planes exchanged gunfire with an American military aircraft over Latvia.

The State Department remained silent on the matter pending a complete investigation of the factual situation by the defense department. It was believed likely that Secretary of State Acheson would comment on the matter at his weekly news conference today.

An unarmed Navy privateer patrol plane, Navy version of the B-24 bomber, disappeared on a flight from Weisbaden to Copenhagen last Saturday. The Moscow statement said that a U. S. four-engine B-29 bomber exchanged gunfire with a Soviet fighter over Latvia and then disappeared on Saturday.

Adds to Mystery
This coincidence merely added to the mystery of the disappearance of the Navy plane.

It had taken off from Weisbaden at 10:31 a. m. local time. Its passage over Bremerhaven was reported later. This route was direct to the plane's destination, Libava, the Latvian seaport over which the alleged incident occurred, is 350 miles east of Copenhagen. Air Force experts noted that a B-24 would have had to fly (Continued on Page Two)

Missing Navy Bomber Is Not Found In Baltic

Rescue Ship Fails To Locate Plane At Spot Reported

(BULLETIN)

COPENHAGEN, April 12.—(INS)—A U. S. Navy bomber believed fired upon by Russian planes and lost in the Baltic remained a will-o-the-wisp today when a rescue ship failed to find a yellow marker reported by aerial spotting.

The search plane radioed that either a raft, yellow rubber suit or buoy had been seen and then lost in the vicinity the plane is thought to have ditched in the sea.

The lost plane is a Navy Privateer, which disappeared with 10 men aboard Saturday after violating Latvian territory. The United States insists the missing plane was not armed.

Alleged Fire Opened
A Soviet protest filed with U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk in Moscow alleged that the American plane opened fire first after violating Latvian territory. The United States insists the missing plane was not armed.

The scene of the alleged incident was over Latvia's port of Libava, almost 600 miles of the course of the Privateer, which was bound for Copenhagen from Weisbaden on a routine mission.

Reports that an object had been seen off the island of Bornholm in the approximate area where flares were said to have been seen Saturday night caused intense excitement at Copenhagen's Kastrop Airfield.

Three Cars Figure In Minor Accident

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 12.—(INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will take part in memorial services for the late President Roosevelt today, nursing minor injuries sustained in an automobile accident last night.

The former first lady was shaken and suffered a sprained neck when a car driven by her chauffeur was involved in a three-car collision near Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Roosevelt was sitting in the front seat with William Linaka, 49, when the accident occurred on Route 55. She left the scene in a taxicab and continued on to her (Continued on Page Two)

Senator Taft Assails Attitude Of President

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, called on President Truman today to eliminate any suspicion of treason from his administration.

Taft accused the president of "libeling" Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., who charged that the State department has been infiltrated by Communists. He also said the Democratic majority on the Senate subcommittee investigating the charges is attempting to "try" McCarthy rather than seek State department Reds.

The GOP policy leader declared that it is of "lesser importance" whether McCarthy has "legal evidence" or whether he has "overstated or understated his case."

To Hear Budenz
Taft's appeal to the president came as senators investigating Mc-

Carthy's charges fixed April 20 as the date to hear Louis Budenz, former Communist, tell publicly what he knows about Lattimore.

Senate investigators headed by Sen. Tydings (D) Md., acceded to Budenz request that he be called April 20, instead of April 17, so he could keep a year-old engagement in the mid-west.

Budenz is the "first witness" mentioned by McCarthy on March 30 as the unidentified person who, he said, would testify he knew Lattimore as a "member of the Communist party."

McCarthy told reporters he has "copies of affidavits covering what Budenz knows about the Lattimore case."

Taft, in a weekly news statement, insisted that the question in the McCarthy investigation is "whether the Communist influence" (Continued on Page Two)

To Bury Four Scouts Friday

Exposure Caused Death Of Boys

CLEVELAND, April 12.—(INS)—Funeral services are to be held Friday for the four suburban Euclid Boys Scouts who died of exposure while adrift on Lake Erie for 16 hours.

One of the most intensive air and sea rescue efforts ever conducted in the 900-mile area bounded by Cleveland and Painesville, O., ended tragically yesterday when the four boys were found huddled on the bottom of their rubber life raft.

Dead were: William J. Von Hof, 14; Richard Bauer, 13; David Lee Hahn, 13; and Roland Riemer, 13. The youths, who shoved off in the raft in pursuit of a stray canoe early Monday night, were found barefooted and clad only in cotton sport shirts and blue jeans.

A solemn requiem mass is to be served at Holy Cross Catholic church Friday morning for the Bauer and Von Hof boys. Members of the Holy Cross Boy Scout troop 143, of which all four were members, will serve as pallbearers.

Many school children of the community, which took to its heart the tragic story of the four boys who found death in the wake of a drifting canoe, are to attend the service.

Neshannock Twp. Makes Proposal To New Castle

Neshannock township residents on Tuesday night suggested to the New Castle school board that a joint school district be established between the two districts. This for the purpose of entering all secondary school pupils of the township in the New Castle public schools.

A group of Walmo residents appeared before the New Castle board Tuesday night with Richard Marquis as spokesman for the group. He explained that pupil load in the secondary classes, (7th through the 12th grade) had gotten large in the township and something had to be done to alleviate the load.

Daylight Time Is Authorized

New Castle public schools will operate upon daylight saving time when and if the city of New Castle adopts it for the summer.

This action was taken at the meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

The board also took action to advertise its imposition of a wage tax for the school term of 1950-51.

A levy of three mills will be laid for the period between July 1, 1950, and December 31, 1950. For the second half of the school year the wage tax levy will go to five mills. This will mean that the city and schools will divide the ten mill levy equally, ten mills being the limit allowed for a wage tax levy.

ship would be taxed for operating expense and that the township would save money in the consolidation.

County Superintendent of Schools Roy F. Conway spoke and explained that the state subsidy for New Castle would be increased and that township taxes would be levied to pay part of the expense.

No Definite Action

In the regular order of business the board considered the matter but took no definite action. The feeling of the board members seemed to be that in such an arrangement the New Castle district would lose some of its sovereignty in the control of the two schools, that separate budgets would be needed for the regular district and the joint district.

Director Alec Samuels said, "If Neshannock township wants the advantages of New Castle schools why not annex Walmo to New Castle and thus insure it?"

In the meantime, sixty eighth grade pupils of Neshannock township will be entered as tuition students in the George Washington junior high school next term. This was agreed to.

The choice of Mr. Conway was a popular one. A graduate of Westminster College, where he received a master's degree, he also holds a master's degree in education from Columbia University, where he also received his high school principal's diploma.

Mr. Conway began teaching in the county schools in 1923 at Enon Valley. In 1924, he was elected to the high school faculty at Union Township consolidated school, and was named supervising principal there in 1926. During this time he had much to do with the establishment of the high school course at Union. He remained as head of the Union Township schools until August, 1937, when he was selected as assistant County Superintendent.

He is a member of the local, state and national educational associations, and is secretary of the New Castle Lions Club.

at far above normal cruising speed to reach this point at the time asserted by the Russians.

Other Factors

In addition to this there were three other factors:

1. The missing Navy B-24 was unarmed and carried no ammunition.

2. The Navy and Air Force have both denied that there were any American four-engine planes in the area at the time.

3. The planes of the air forces which went into action had not yet been alerted to the search at the time the Russians claim the incident occurred.

While it is generally proclaimed diplomatic usage that a note sent by one power to another is not made public until received by the recipient government, Moscow published its note soon after it was handed Ambassador Allan G. Kirk.

Rule Is Violated

This rule has been violated frequently in recent months of the cold war. But this has only happened when the matter involved was of greatest importance.

The Soviets have done so frequently on major matters in order to get its version before the world, and especially iron curtain peoples, before western officials can do so. The United States has sometimes followed the same procedure.

Some observers believe it possible that the Russians have shot down an American plane, either in eastern Germany or the Baltic, and are making the claim to an incident over Latvia to avoid the consequences.

Officials were reported primarily concerned with delving into the purposes which might have impelled the Soviet government to make the incident public so promptly.

Shortly after 10 a. m. (EST) the Danish minesweeper Souhunden reached the spot where an American search pilot reported he had sighted something floating.

At 10:30 a. m. EST the skipper of the minesweeper wireless that he and his crew had been able to find nothing—neither raft, jacket nor buoy.

Some Danish authorities had expressed belief that the search pilot actually saw a buoy marking the spot where large quantities of German poison gas were sunk for destruction after the war.

Naples Communists Protest Landing Of American Arms

NAPLES, April 12.—(INS)—Communists in Naples declared an eight-hour general strike today in protest against the landing of American arms in the Italian port city.

A one-hour walkout also was staged in Turin but this was considered a fizzle since comparatively few participated.

The arms, parts of American military aid to western Europe, were put ashore last night and early today by rotating teams of anti-Communist dock workers.

The unloading was completed successfully behind barbed wire entanglements which were heavily guarded.

Communist threats to attempt to interfere with unloading of the freighter Etilona, carrying the arms, did not materialize.

in the State department still exists." He said:

Should Eliminate Suspicion

"Every member of the administration ought to be eager to have that question determined finally and conclusively."

The president above all, instead of labeling Senator McCarthy and prejudging the entire case, should be anxious—if he can do so—to eliminate any suspicion of treason from his own departments."

Instead of a "complete" and "sincere" inquiry, Taft asserted, the "president assumes the innocence of all persons mentioned in the department just as he called the attack on Alger Hiss a 'Red herring' when the House committee first brought out the facts."

The senator said Secretary of State Acheson's refusal to release his loyalty files "can only be dictated by fear as to what they might show." State, Justice and Civil Service executives were ordered by President Truman to ignore the subpoenas served by the Senate committee.

COLDS ARE COSTLY

When it comes to loss of man hours nothing can quite keep up with the common cold. Periodically scores of school pupils are absent because of respiratory troubles. The amount of time lost from jobs by adults is appalling. The peculiar thing is that nobody pays much attention to the inroads made by colds. One can imagine what a row would be raised if a similar number of pupils were out of school or adults off the job on account of chicken-pox, measles, mumps or scarlet fever.

Most sufferers from colds take a rather philosophical view of the matter. They treat themselves, take some precautions and then decide the worst will be over in a few days. Industry has rather adjusted itself to the cold. A certain number of persons are expected to be off in winter, spring and fall as a result of the disease.

Those seeking new fields of discovery have only to look at the common cold. It opens a mighty avenue of research to the scientist or physician who can pry out its secrets. The man who discovers how to prevent colds might not win the fame of Christopher Columbus, but he will cut a mighty swath in world economics.

SPUR TO THE SUB FLEET

The probably record-breaking underwater trip of 5200 miles of the American snorkel submarine Pickerel has been notable as a severe test of this type of submersible. In addition it has fixed public attention more closely on the Navy's efforts to improve its "pigboat" fleets.

In view of apparently well substantiated information of Russia's great expansion of its submarine service it is of prime importance for the United States to get in front and stay there in technical improvements of underwater fighting ships.

This is especially true of submarines designed to track down and destroy enemy submersibles. The snorkel device, originally produced by the Germans, has made undersea boats a greater menace than ever before, and the Russians are said to have plenty of them.

The "snorkel" is a breathing tube which enables a sub to remain below the surface for long periods. It is an aid in escaping detection and particularly avoids the former necessity for a submarine to come to the surface to recharge batteries under frequently dangerous conditions.

The Pickerel's long voyage, from Hong Kong to Pearl Harbor, should spur measures urged recently by General Eisenhower to build up a powerful anti-submarine service in the Navy able to ward off what would be one of the gravest threats to our own country if an international armed conflict should occur.

CHORUS IN SPRING

Motorists driving along country roads in the eastern part of the United States and Canada these evenings will hear, from some low-lying spot where water runs or stands, the loud chattering of the spring peepers. High, clear, far-traveling on the night air, the insistent piping of countless voices can startle the unexpectant city dweller. It can, in fact, surprise the ears of those who know it well.

The peepers intone a single note but with what enthusiasm and what volume! Incredible that the author of this shrilling whistle is a tiny creature only an inch long. Hyla Pickeringii is smaller than his near relative, Hyla Verisicolor, who enlivens summer evenings. Perhaps he sings the spring nights through because he turns almost silent later on.

This is his breeding song—he is a tree frog, small though he is, and like others of his race he seeks out the wet places in spring to get the new generation off to a good start. He will make for the tall timber when that responsibility has been discharged.

Hyla Pickeringii was made to be heard rather than seen, although it is hard to think of the peeper as shy when he is boldly caroling his changeless song. Few persons ever see him, although he is present in countless numbers.

AGE OF DISCOURTESY

Practice of common courtesy has fallen upon sad ways. On the streets, in trains, in buses and at public gatherings, many evidences can be found that selfish inconsiderate behavior, often descending to brazen rudeness, has in too great a measure replaced gallantry and politeness.

Advocates of the "after me everyone else comes first" creed have come to the forefront, relegating Emily Post to the discard.

Perhaps the war-developed psychosis, or neuroticism, to which most of the present crime and violence is attributed, can be blamed in part for this disregard of the good manners and social amenities which have always contributed so much to the pleasure and grace of civilized living. But, whatever the cause, this misconduct in which both men and women are guilty, should be eradicated.

As this corrective task is primarily a matter of education and training, the school, the home and the church can make major contributions to its completion.

With most Chinese ill-clothed, ill-housed and ill-fed, how do those communists expect to get reelected?

Uneasy Western Europe

Yugoslavia's sharp rejection of an Italian bid for solution of the Trieste problem has underlined the uneasy situation in western Europe, where allied strategy is aimed at creating an equilibrium in the face of Communist-dictated chaos.

The sharp and swift reaction from Belgrade to Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza's conciliatory speech in Milan came as a surprise.

Criticism in the Yugoslav press was aimed chiefly at Sforza's contention that Trieste is fundamentally an Italian city.

The Communist newspaper Borba and other organs chose to overlook the emphasis that the Italian statesman placed upon the need for elimination of customs barriers.

Cannot Foster Trade

It may be that Marshal Tito's precarious economy is such that he cannot endanger his present plans for converting an Agarian country into an industrial one by fostering trade with Italy on a basis that would not be to his entire benefit.

But the violence of Yugoslav newspaper language in the matter furnished clear proof that in the almost five years since the second world war ended, no progress whatever has been made in settlement of the always dangerous Trieste issue.

It is complicated by many factors.

First of all, Trieste is neither Italian nor Yugoslav. In strictest accuracy, the city is a relic of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

Ceded To Italy

At the end of the first world war, with imperial Austria down in defeat on the embroidered coat-tails of Kaiser Wilhelm II, the busy and beautiful port city was ceded to Italy.

This was in payment for Italy's abrogation of her treaty with the central powers, her entry into war on the side of the western allies and her very considerable contribution to victory on the shores of the Isonzo river.

Since that time there has been a vast Italian infiltration of Trieste.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELPING NERVOUS CHILDREN

Long and often have I held forth the slogan: "Celebrate Successes." So today I shall pass along a few accounts of good parental achievements.

"Dear Dr. Myers:

"A few months ago I wrote you for help concerning our eight-year-old daughter who had rheumatic fever and was getting hard for me to manage. I'm so grateful to you for the help you gave in your letter as well as in your leaflet, 'The Nervous Child.' Just writing to you has lifted such a burden from me that I've been able to see more clearly how to adjust myself as well as her." Let me note here that many mothers say they get emotional relief from writing me about their problems. Some say the problem seemed to clear up without doing anything about it. The latter I used to hear many times from young mothers at the end of a university course to parents I once taught.

Now to go on from this mother—"After I had written you lightning worked a miracle, if I may call it that. During a thunder storm lightning struck an electric wire hurting the condenser in our radio. I was able to observe first hand the effect of the radio on the nervous child and the effect of change of no exciting radio programs is tremendous. My daughter became ever so much more cooperative and ever so responsive to my suggestions.

Started To Read

"Also at your suggestion I started to read much more to her and she surely enjoys it. I've made use of your list of 'Books for the Child from Six to Twelve,' and got four from our public library and she's looking forward to getting different books every two weeks. Even the younger children were delighted and wanted to be read to or to listen as I read to their big sister. I was amazed at all the books the library has for children. I also found your book, 'The Modern Parent,' and it has helped me."

Then she asked for other bulletins. The two she referred to may be had by anyone else in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Another mother who says she has been reading my column since long before her marriage writes: "Through your suggestions I realized why my daughter six years old was continually sucking her lower lip and took steps to show her more attention, whereupon she stopped it. And it had been going on for four years."

Lip Sucking

Of course, some hard cases of lip sucking, tongue sucking and thumb sucking don't clear up so quickly when more attention and affection are given. Too, there may be more complicated problems or, as in the case of the only child, little or no jealousy. Even so, the cause usually is emotional and the cure comes from improving the environment so the child will feel more calm and secure. This means a more relaxed and affectionate family atmosphere and a program inducing more serenity and feeling of all-is-well in the child.

Of first importance to the child who sucks the tongue, thumb, or lips is how happy and secure the relationships are between the parents and how free from inner conflicts each of them is. Of second importance is the avoidance of scolding, punishing, shaming of the child for the habit. Vast are the mysteries of emotions.

For every man shall bear his own burden.—Gal. 6:5.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

What do you think about the waterways? A take, widely believed, has it that river transportation is cheap... Here's a story on that. The Missouri river between Kansas City and its mouth just above St. Louis is 386 miles long. Since 1921 the Federal government reports that it has spent $126,926,545 on the channel, including appropriations by Congress for work up to next July 1.

That is an average cost of $328,000 a mile, compared with a present day cost of $88,000 a mile for average railroad construction in the United States. There exists four main rail lines between the two points... the money spent on the river would have built three of the rail lines and half of another.

Even after the people have spent all this money for river improvement the Missouri carried only 547,534 tons of commercial freight in 1948, the last year for which figures are on file at the Wichita C. of C. ... this does not take into account 223,506 tons hauled for river improvement work. Imagine a railroad using more than one-third of its freight equipment merely to haul repairs for the line.

Of the railroads between the two points... one hauled 10,671,377 tons in 1948 or 20 times the commercial tonnage of the river. If the other three railroads did as well, they hauled 80 times more freight than the river... Apparently the shippers find the railroads the best system of transportation 80 times out of 81.

It cost $5,235 a mile to maintain the Missouri in 1948... or more than two million for the entire length... that is more than $3.50 a ton, which would run any transportation company not subsidized out of the people's earnings... and another thing... Rivers do not supplement the railroads in war times as we are glibly told... In 1941 the Missouri carried 526,126 tons... then came the war and the tonnage sank lower and lower each year, until it was only 201,221 tons in 1945... The situation with respect to other rivers is as bad or worse... and now Congress is asking $150,784,000 for river and harbors in the coming fiscal year... NOT ANY OF THIS IS FOR FLOOD CONTROL... let's eliminate this wanton waste. Let Washington.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Anti-American Propaganda

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Throughout Germany today, and particularly in underground SS and reviving Nazi channels, Germans are circulating savagely anti-American propaganda. This propaganda represents Americans as brutal, gangster-like oppressors. Some of the Germans circulating the line are working toward an understanding with Soviet Russia. These affidavits charged American pre-trial investigators with brutality and unpeppable torture.

After only the most cursory inquiry, certain Americans and certain organizations took these charges as truth. One was the National Council for the Prevention of War headed by Frederick J. Laibny, ardent Republican and pacifist. The council disseminated these allegations in this country and even more widely in Germany.

An armed services subcommittee was appointed, headed by former Senator Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, a Republican, with Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Lester Hunt of Wyoming, Democrats. With the aid of Col. Joseph Chambers, a staff member of the armed services committee and a Marine Corps officer with a lengthy combat record, the committee went to Germany and made a careful investigation, questioning a great many witnesses under oath.

Found Charges Untrue

The committee unanimously found the charges to be untrue. The official report said their wide dissemination by American citizens had done the "country a great disservice."

McCarthy meanwhile launched a savage attack on Baldwin. He repeatedly impugned Baldwin's honor and integrity, implying that Baldwin was motivated by the fact that a former law partner in Connecticut had had a part in the pre-trial investigation of the German prisoners. McCarthy carried this to such lengths that Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire finally compelled McCarthy to surrender the floor by pointing out to the presiding officer that the Wisconsin senator was violating the rule against personal calumny of another senator.

McCarthy at about this time had in his office as his chief assistant (Continued on Page Six)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan (By International News Service)

Republican worries over the national debt are not expected to particularly excite Mr. Truman... He's personally solvent.

But the Republicans are of the opinion that Harry has turned pay-as-you-go financing into a spend-as-I-stay plan which could turn into an after-he's-gone headache.

They would like to limit the national debt which has been mounting steadily despite the number of persons who say "Isn't that the limit?" each time they hear a budget message.

They propose to halt "boom and bust" cycles by lowering the boom before the bust.

And there's nobody with wider experience with a "boom and bust" cycle than the Republicans... they went over the handlebars on the last one.

They always said their troubles were due to world conditions... the Democrats have the same world available as a character witness if they ever need it. They can prove it even worse now.

They Say

VATICAN CITY—Pope Pius—"The results of scientific investigations do not and can not have an irreducible opposition to the cardinal essentials of faith."

LAKE SUCCESS—Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang, chief Nationalist China delegate to the U.N.—"The National Government of China has reliable information that the USSR has sent to the Communists in China a large number of military aircraft and personnel, including pilots and ground technicians."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R Wis.)—"Up to now we're in the position of a district attorney who has proved that a man was killed and who has produced the man who shot him, standing over him with a smoking gun. The defendant says it was accidental and the corpse cannot be questioned."

SAN FRANCISCO—Harry Bridges, convicted CIO Longshoremen's Union chief—"What I said about the last battle being the one that counts still holds good."

Folks Of Fame

Thomas de Quincey, English author, was born at Greenhead, Manchester, in 1775. He ran away from school, went to London, where he lived in utmost poverty. Forgiven by his guardian, he studied at Oxford and while there he first tasted opium—having taken it to soothe neuralgic pains. After finishing his college course he settled down near his friend, the poet William Wordsworth. Charles Lamb, Samuel Coleridge and Robert Southey were also his friends. He wrote and edited a magazine and his "The Confessions of an Opium Eater" appeared first in magazine form. He died in Edinburgh on December 8, 1859.

Florida Round-Up

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

EN ROUTE THROUGH FLORIDA, April 12—

You're Another. This Pepper-Smathers contest is a Democratic primary election, but you'd never know it to hear the candidates referring to one another. Smathers calls Pepper a pro-Communist, and Pepper calls Smathers a Republican. Both are terms of insult in the South.

Rah! Rah! Siwash! The campaign literature of both men omits one vital statistic—place of birth. Neither Pepper nor Smathers was born in Florida. But the Smathers camp is making a burning issue of place of education. Pepper went to Harvard Law School, while Smathers took his law degree at Florida University. This has given Smathers a theme which he sings on platform after platform: "I don't travel under the crimson banner of Harvard. I walk proudly under the orange and blue of Old Florida."

Pass The Hat. Although both candidates are well-fixed for campaign funds, both of them talk poor as Job's turkey. Pepper claims that he's not running against Smathers but also against the Du Pont millions which can't be matched by the hard-earned pennies of his followers. But the fact is that Labor union members in Florida are being assessed $2 a head for the Pepper war chest and that outside money is flowing in generously from Northern liberals, laborites and minority groups. Smathers is calling attention to this golden stream, but some of his managers wish he wouldn't. They're getting theirs from Northern conservatives, businessmen and Roosevelt-haters.

Photo Finish. Although the Florida newspapers are giving blow-by-blow coverage to the campaign and supporting their particular candidate in flaming editorials, there's little disposition to pick the winner. One reason is that the memory of 1948 is still green in journalistic memory. Another is that Pepper, although now behind the polls, is known to be an accomplished stretch-runner. But the most-cited analysis is one by Henning Heild of the Miami Herald which seems to give Smathers the nod. Heild points out that Pepper, who won by only 9604 votes in 1944, built up his biggest majorities in Dade (Miami) county. But he's not likely to do that this time. Smathers is a Dade county man himself. If the two men break even in Dade, Pepper will lose on the basis of the 1944 vote-spread.

Potomac County. But the "county" most likely to aid Smathers' election is not in Florida. To a great extent his fortunes are tied to the McCarthy vs. State Department battle in Washington, D. C. Smathers has undertaken to smear Pepper with the same Red brush which Senator McCarthy is waiving at Secretary Acheson's minions. These tactics aren't admired any more in Florida than in the rest of the country, but nobody's forgetting the Hiss case either. If McCarthy wins in Washington, which isn't probable, Smathers would win in Florida by a country mile. For the company which Pepper kept during the Roosevelt days is just what McCarthy is hollering about.

Change-over. An over-looked factor in Smathers' favor is the number of Florida Republicans who have changed their party affiliation in order to vote for him. This isn't being advertised by the Smathers camp because it pictures their man as a Dixiecrat, that is a Democrat with a GOP voting record. But a significant number of former Republicans have registered as Democrats in Dade, Polk, Volusia and Orange counties, according to very good information. If the election is as close as expected, these votes might be decisive.

The Third Candidate. Some Floridians, both white and Negro, are afraid that the election will give encouragement to the Ku Klux Klan. There was a recent incident of cross-burning on the west coast of the state. In Jacksonville I was given the name of a Klan leader whom some expect to make trouble. Race hatred, if it exists in Florida, is not on the surface. Most of the whites are a little bewildered but not at all aroused by the mass registration of colored Democrats whom CIO organizers are hauling to the Court Houses. But there is so much money, so much pressure, so much wild talk by both candidates that almost anything could happen. A riot, a scandal, an "incident" could turn this hard-fought and rather amusing contest into something pretty tragic.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Do you know the biggest business in the world? It isn't U. S. Steel. It isn't Standard Oil. It isn't American Tel. and Tel.

It's LIVING.

I don't know the president of any one of the above named businesses. But I know the president of LIVING, Inc.

That's You and I and every one of us.

LIVING, Inc., can be a small business. If it is, you'll be kicked around as all the small business men are being kicked around in Washington.

Or it can be a great, big business with all the privileges and prerogatives that go with big business.

Some philosopher said, "Advanced middle age is that period in which a person is too old to live and too young to die."

Like many philosophers this particular sage was only half right. Nobody is ever too old to live if he has learned to live when he was young.

I, myself, am now in what is optimistically called the middle age, which means that I have crossed the half-century mark.

Frankly, I have never been able to understand this business of calling fifty middle age.

Possibly my arithmetic teachers were wrong.

They taught me that the middle of seventy is thirty-five.

I was also taught that seventy is the expectable life span.

So, to call fifty the middle of life is either gross miscalculation, gross optimism, or gross cowardice.

Personally, I don't live by mathematics.

To me life is a never-ending source of pleasure, anticipation, thrills and excitement.

Please don't tell me that I am bragging. I admit that night clubs don't interest me any longer. I concede that tennis and skiing are too much for me. Even if I were a bachelor, I doubt that I could make us much of a fun of myself over women as I could and did thirty years ago.

Many of the things that thrilled me then leave me cold today.

But for everything I have lost I have gained something. I have ceased to be a participant in many things and become an amused spectator instead.

Someday you, too, may be "middle aged." Even if you are past middle age today, you can go back to middle age by doing a little thinking about what life really means.

Do you need youth and brawn and muscles to enjoy the ageless miracles of nature?

Must you be agile and adolescent to look forward to each new day of sunshine or rain, of flowers or snow, to each new night of moon and stars, of blissful slumber?

No matter what your age, conduct the business of LIVING. Inc. successfully and you need never retire.

Health Talks

SCARLET OR PALE

Mom has her troubles. Minnie was too pale. The doctor gave her some pills to put some color in her face.

One day Butch came home from school and didn't feel very good. He had a headache and felt too hot. Next morning he was red all over and hadn't taken any of Minnie's pills either.

He had Scarlet Fever.

It is a dangerous contagious disease which does not show up for years. The doctors do not seem to have any shots or anything to prevent it, so we must still depend on quarantine and do the best we can. Sometimes the disease is so mild that it can hardly be detected. Those are the cases which cause the most trouble. John may have a mild attack and Jimmy comes to make us much of a fun of myself over women as I could and did thirty years ago. Some doctors say that the red color helps to scare people away from there.

School Team Given Honors

New Wilmington High Team Feted

New Wilmington's high school basketball team, cheerleaders and team managers were honored Tuesday evening at a community banquet, sponsored by the New Wilmington Kiwanis club, at the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church.

Over 140 friends and fans were on hand to honor the Tri-County tournament champions, who finished with a season's record of 17 wins and nine defeats.

Also honored at the banquet were winners in the recent forensic contest. These winners—Martha Reaney, Elaine Lehman and Bill Barbe—all gave solos at the banquet.

Don Gardner, WKBN sports announcer, was principal speaker for the evening. He spoke mostly to the members of the basketball team, and gave interesting examples of how basketball and other sports help a boy throughout his entire life.

He explained how the lessons learned on the basketball floor can be applied to every day life and how sports are typical of our American way of life.

He cited many examples to prove that it's not always the big boys that win, but the boys that really have the will to win and can get up off the floor once they are knocked down.

Opens Program
Martha Reaney opened the evening's program with a vocal solo, "Where My Caravan Has Rested," accompanied by Eleanor Burns.

Kiwanis club president Howard Rodgers then called upon Rev. Robert Kelly, instructor of Bible at Westminster college and pastor of the New Bedford United Presbyterian church, to give the invocation.

At the conclusion of the meal,

GAS PAINS GO Inches of Bloat Vanish

Swelling with gas after meals—rifting of hot, sour liquids into the throat—a heavy, swollen feeling around the waistline. These are some of the penalties of an Upset Stomach.

CERTA-VIN is helping hundreds of stomach "victims" here in New Castle. One local man said Certa-Vin worked so much gas and bloat from him that his waist-line went down 7 inches.

CERTA-VIN is a new formula containing Ten Great Herbs blended with vitamin B and Iron. It not only relieves gas; it also enriches the blood with new red cells and makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN at any drug store in New Castle, or nearby towns.

Mr. Rodgers turned the program over to G. I. Williams, master of ceremonies.

Elaine Lehman rendered a flute solo, "In the Groove," accompanied by Joan McConnell.

Bill Barbe sang "I Heard the Forest Praying," accompanied by Mrs. H. B. Fowble.

Wait Whitman, principal of the high school, expressed his gratitude to the club, the townspeople and the school board for their support of the team.

Mr. Williams then introduced the cheerleaders, who received a big hand from the group. Cheerleaders were:

Loraine McGinnis, captain, Carol Wilson, Madeline Fordney, Martha Reaney, Phyllis Young and Alice Ann Ringer.

Members of Team
The members of the team were introduced. They were:

Tom Hutchison, captain, Wilson Blake, Bob McKee, Del Brown, Bill Young, George Steingrabe, Dave Boyd, Walt McGinnis, Lou Ringer and Bill Sholler. Hutchison, Blake, McKee, Brown, Young and Steingrabe are seniors.

Master of ceremonies Williams introduced the "two mules" of the team—the managers—Jack Sharp and Ralph Watson.

The biggest hand of the evening, however, went to a boy that never put on a basketball suit during the season—Warren Rotgaber. A regular on last year's team, Warren was afflicted with polio during the summer. He has come along fine, however, and was at the banquet, and will graduate with his class in June.

Coach Bob Eagleson spoke about the team and the boys on it. He expressed his gratitude for the fine support given the team by the townspeople and students alike.

The dinner was served by the Young Women's Guild of the United Presbyterian church, under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Cody and Mrs. Arthur Minter.

Kiwanis club committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of George McCurdy, chairman, John Reaney, Fred Rowland and E. G. Sharp.

Ask For Share Of Milk Business Of Public Schools

Guy Shoaff, representing the milk firm of himself and his brother, appeared before the New Castle school board Tuesday night and asked that they be given some of the school milk business.

"We have been barred from getting any of the public school milk business because it is said we are an out of town firm," said he.

"The facts are these. My brother and I are both New Castle residents by birth and residence, our office is on Laurel avenue, but milk plant is two blocks outside the city limits, in Union township. Union township bars us because it is claimed we are a New Castle concern.

"We submit we have a right to some of the business in the New Castle schools. True, our plant is in the township by a few hundred feet, but all the milk that comes into New Castle is produced outside the city, in the townships.

"The city ordinance calls for milk with no more than 50,000 cc bacteria. A check of some of the milk sold the schools revealed a count of 73,000 bacteria. Our count is below 10,000."

The board took the matter up in the regular order of business and indicated that when the allocations are made for the 1950-51 school term, Shoaff Brothers will be considered.

The Valentino company sent a letter to the board asking that it be given a share of the milk business. It is a local concern also.

China Will Get Hearing

Charges Against Russia To Be Aired

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 12.—The Soviet-banned "Little Assembly" is expected to be convened early next week to hear charges by Nationalist China that Russia is supplying the Chinese Communists with aircraft, planes and technicians.

Dr. Noao Carlos Muniz of Brazil, president of the Little Assembly, conferred on that step with numerous delegations—including the United States. He acted after Nationalist Delegate Tsiang P. Tsiang appealed for action on his request of last February for a U. N. military and naval observation mission to the Far East.

Tsiang insisted in his talk with Muniz that the alleged military aid Russia is currently giving to the Chinese Communists makes the observation group "all the more urgent and necessary."

Reds Establish Bases
In identical letters sent to U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie and Muniz, Tsiang asserted that Russia has established air bases at Shanghai, Nanking and Hsuehchow.

Last February, the "Little Assembly" took Tsiang's request for a U. N. mission to the Far East under advisement but failed to offer him additional encouragement. No meeting has been called since then.

Initial soundings by Muniz evidently foreshadowed little change from the lack of enthusiasm displayed in February by numerous delegations for U. N. intervention in China.

However, the majority feel now as then that Tsiang is entitled to a hearing on the charges he has presented.

Consider Harrisburg For Academy Of Air

HARRISBURG, April 12.—INS.—The United States Air Force is considering the Harrisburg area as a site for its proposed air academy. Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce President Leonard B. Richards at a C. of C. directors meeting Monday said Maj. Albert E. Milliken from Air Force headquarters in New York had discussed the possibility with members of the Chamber's Military Liaison Committee.

The Air Force said it will survey many other cities throughout the country before locating the "West Point of the Air."

The Chamber of Commerce emphasized at the conference the success of two other large military establishments in the Central Pennsylvania area at Middletown and Mechanicsburg.

Richards pointed out the district has transportation facilities, airports, cultural, educational and recreational advantages the Air Force demands.

Thomas W. Korb of Milwaukee, Korb is a lawyer for Walter Harnischfeger, wealthy Milwaukee manufacturer who is reported to be one of McCarthy's chief financial backers. Korb says he had little to do with the German charges.

Harnischfeger has frequently expressed the view that American occupation authorities in Germany have been too harsh. After Korb was installed in McCarthy's office, a Wisconsin friend said jokingly: "Well, now you've become inside man at the skunk works."

Just as the charges against Lattimore appear to have come from the files of the Nationalist China lobby, so in this instance McCarthy seems to have taken the German prisoners' accounts and without verification put them out as truth. He went so far as to demand that American witnesses on the other side be subjected to lie detector tests.

At the time the attacks began,

Baldwin had received an offer of a judgeship on Connecticut's supreme court. His friends believe that if he had not already decided, the McCarthy attack convinced him that he should leave the senate. Baldwin, a fair-minded man, was appalled at the McCarthy technique of repeating in committee or on the senate floor a charge previously repudiated, merely altering the form a little. In some instances McCarthy had previously agreed that the original charge was false.

The Baldwin committee concluded that the activities of the National Council for the Prevention of War "have been most damaging to the national interests of our country and to the cause of peace. The sub-committee feels strongly that the proper investigations should be made to determine the real motivation in back of the activities of this organization and the influence it has had on many individuals within the United States who have accepted as fact the allegations publicized by it." No such investigation has ever been held nor has McCarthy's motivation in discrediting the Baldwin committee ever been made clear.

Oak Street Board Plans Next Meeting Of P.T.A. Group

Executive Board of the Oak Street Parent-Teacher unit met recently in the teachers' room of the school. John Cornelius, principal, and Miss Gail Cooper, teacher representative, were in attendance.

Each chairman present was notified that a written report of the year's activities would be due at the May meeting.

A letter will be sent to John Bechtol, secretary of the New Castle school board, inviting the members to hear Dr. Blanche Carrier at the next P.T.A. meeting.

The unit will elect officers and delegates to city council at the meeting on April 18. It was decided to send four delegates, one teacher and three parents, to the South-west District Conference to be held in Washington, Pa., April 22. These will be nominated and voted upon at the next meeting. Auditors for the treasurer's report will be appointed.

Fund For Meetings
For the yearly project for the school, it was agreed by the board members and will be voted on by the unit, that the balance of money in the treasury shall be left in a reserve fund to be used for conferences of P.T.A. organizations and teachers. Many things could be bought for the school, but it was decided to wait until fall to see what had been purchased during the summer. Then the group will decide how to use any necessary money for special items.

A donation for the building fund of the new national headquarters building which is under construction in Washington, was voted on, and will be forwarded to the state treasurer.

The board has been informed that a twelve dinner will be held by the county council of P.T.A. at their May meeting. Each person will bring a turken to the 6:30 dinner on May 15.

A thank you gift was given to Warren Broadbent, custodian of the school, for his cooperation in aiding at the unit meetings.

Regular P.T.A. meeting will be held on April 18 at the school. Dr. Blanche Carrier, chairman of the psychology department at Westminster college, will be guest speaker for the occasion.

Pulaski Lions Hear Highway Safety Talk

Members of the Pulaski Lions club gathered on Monday evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church, with King Lion James Carline presiding.

A splendid dinner was served to the group at 7:15 o'clock.

Following the repast, the King Lion introduced Private Rice of Pennsylvania State Police, who gave a very instructive and interesting talk on "Highway Safety."

The district governor, "Arch" Hilliard made an address on "Lionism".

Guests of the evening were Lions Tracy and Eppinger of New Bedford, and Barris and Lawrence of West Middlesex.

A business session followed, when future activities of the club were discussed. Next meeting of the group will be Monday evening, April 24, at same location.

Lawrence Washington, a brother of Gen. George Washington, was a marine officer in one of the three marine regiments recruited in 1740.

Report France In Good Shape

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(INS)—The economic cooperation administration said today that 1.9 billion dollars in American aid has helped France beat inflation and start on the road to economic recovery.

ECA, reporting on Marshall Plan operations in France, declared that the tide of economic deterioration prevailing in France two years ago has been turned.

Agricultural and industrial production is up and Barry Bingham, ECA chief in France, said: "The most spectacular effect of the Marshall Plan in France during the past two years has been the halt to the alarming inflationary spiral. Progress seems certain in France's economic future."

Bingham asserted that the final phase of the four-year ECA program "will give France a real opportunity to achieve a balanced economy and independence of extraordinary help, provided ECA aid is continued in proper proportions."

Statistically, ECA said, the French are in good shape.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Back from London, Columnist Irving Hoffman reports that Princess Margaret was sitting with the royal family at a box at the Palladium for the triumphant opening of Danny Kaye's new act. When the orchestra struck up God Save the King, the princess turned to her father, and in a loud whisper, remarked, "Listen, Pop, they're playing your theme song!"

In a Times Square drug store, a chorus girl was overheard telling her sidekick, "If I only could combine the qualities of my two best boy friends, I'd be in clover. Tony is brilliant, rich and handsome, and Victor wants to marry me."

In the same store (a popular gathering place for show people) a dashing blonde reproved a would-be masquerader. "Stop whistling at me, young man! I'm a grandmother." The masquerader, who obviously will go far, promptly replied, "Why, grandma, what big eyes you have!"

Mental Health Week To Begin April 23

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—National Mental Health Week will be observed throughout Pennsylvania the week of April 23 "to stir general public interest in the vital problem of mental health."

Welfare Secretary William C. Brown said it will mark the first time Pennsylvania has joined in the nation-wide observance on a state-wide basis.

"Through the medium of National Mental Health Week, we hope to show the people of Pennsylvania the gigantic construction and improvement programs now underway at our hospitals plus the all-important 'improved care and treatment' schedule for hospital patients," Brown said.

Tree And Fence Are Knocked Down

Large tree and fence on the Jake McCracken farm, Perry highway, at Harlansburg was knocked down Tuesday by a tractor-trailer operated by Hubert Bryant of 7444 Verona boulevard, Pittsburgh, according to state police.

According to what they learned, Bryant was operating north at Rock Springs, following a milk truck driven by Paul L. Book, Slippery Rock R. D. 2.

Book steered his truck left to enter the McCracken place and Bryant pulled to the right to avoid a collision.

State Relief Cut Receives Protests

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—State Relief officials are being pressed to rescind an order designed to save $11,000,000 through economies in allowance for food, clothing and special services for indigent Pennsylvanians.

The Pennsylvania Citizens Association for Health and Welfare claim that the order, effective March 14, will result in hardship for persons affected by the decision of the Department of Public Assistance.

Director David Bouterse told the DPA that "generally, the effect of the cut will be to further reduce the already low standard of living of the aged, dependent children and indigent families of the commonwealth."

The DPA ordered the reductions in various categories to save $11,000,000 during the remaining 13 months of the 1949-51 biennium and thus minimize the possibility of running low on relief funds before the appropriation for the next biennium is approved by the legislature.

Report Man Admits Starting Two Fires

LANCASTER, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—State police announced that Willoughby Litzenger, 23, has admitted starting two fires which caused more than $15,000 damage in nearby Manheim Easter morning.

Cpl. James J. Hagerty quoted

Litzenger as saying "he was mad at everybody and disgusted with the world."

Arson charges will be preferred against the Manheim man later, Hagerty said.

Litzenger, a porter at Lancaster General Hospital, fell 40 feet from a balcony last night during an attempt to escape police who were questioning him at the hospital.

The fires damaged a garage, an egg warehouse and service station.

It is estimated that the 8,609,000 acres devoted to corn plantations in 1938

CLEVELAND GIRL WEDS THOMAS CAREY

A beautiful springtime wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, April 11, in St. Jerome church, Cleveland, O., uniting in marriage Miss Patricia Jane Mullally, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pierce H. Mullally of Cleveland, and Thomas F. Carey, son of James T. Carey, 904 North Mercer street, this city, and the late Mrs. Carey.

Pledging their vows before an altar festive with Easter lilies and lighted candles, the couple was joined in marriage by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. Hammer, pastor of the church.

The attractive bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was costumed in white slipper satin and French bridal lace. She wore a cascade of French bridal lace and long tapering sleeves of the same lace. Nylon ruching edged the bodice. A fingertip veil of imported silk illusion extended from a satin halo which was trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Matron of honor and maid of honor respectively were Mrs. Pierce H. Mullally, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Winifred Coyle of Youngstown, classmates of the bride at St. Louis university. They were dressed identically in camellia pink gowns of Chantilly lace fashioned with deep bias bertha forming short cape sleeves and full bodices with full skirts over tulle. Pleated marquisette poke bonnets with fluted brims edged with clusters of tiny rosebuds enhanced the pretty costumes. They carried baskets filled with Johanna Hill roses, bachelor buttons and yellow daisies.

John P. Carey of Pittsburgh was best man for his brother, Usher. Usher were Pete Sheehan of Youngstown, Paul Carey of New Castle, another brother, and Dr. Pierce H. Mullally, Jr., and Donald F. Mullally, brothers of the bride. Two other brothers, Robert and William Mullally, were acolytes.

One hundred guests were served breakfast at the Lake Shore Country club following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Villa Angela Academy and St. Vincent Charity Hospital School of Nursing, Cleveland. She received her bachelors degree from St. Louis university and did graduate work at John Carroll and Western Reserve universities. She was employed as a nurse in the offices of Dr. Proctor Dierck and was on the faculty of St. John's college, Cleveland. Her husband is a graduate of New Castle high school, Slippery Rock State Teachers college and has a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He is a veteran of World War II and is now teacher of mathematics and coach at Ursuline high school, Youngstown.

Following a honeymoon trip through the east, Mr. and Mrs. Carey will make their home at 2029 Felicia avenue, Youngstown.

Arms Grant To Thailand

U.S. Grants Aid To Kingdom In Asia

BANGKOK, April 12.—(INS)—The government of Thailand announced that the United States has approved a $10,000,000 arms grant to the southeast Asia kingdom.

The grant was given under terms of the American plan to allot $75,000,000 to the southeast Asia area in the battle against spread of Communism.

Although there were no details of what type of arms are to be provided, it is known that the Thailand military leaders are particularly interested in planes and heavy armament.

The decision of the U. S. was believed a result of the recent survey made by Roving Ambassador Dr. Philip Jessup.

Information in Bangkok is that the U. S. has decided also to spend $30,000,000 on behalf of military aid for the regime of Bao Dai's Viet Nam regime in Indo-China.

With Western Bloc Thailand has been the only nation in southeast Asia which has gone all the way with the western bloc in according recognition to the French-backed Bao Dai government.

The Thais have only a small army at present, with Marines and mechanized, centrally-controlled police and the beginnings of an air force. In all there are about 600,000 men, mostly British-equipped.

It is not expected that the American aid will be forthcoming immediately because of difficulties of transportation among other things.

The aid is believed to include bulldozers and other heavy road-building equipment.

This will remedy one of Thailand's chief defense liabilities, the absence of roads, especially toward the country's northern frontiers.

Somerset Man Is Charged With Murder

SOMERSET, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—Charles J. Harrison, Jr., Somerset justice of the peace and a banker, has been charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Joseph M. Deist, a nearby Boswell coal operator.

State Police Sgt. H. A. Stephens filed the charge yesterday after a coroner's jury found that Deist "met his death by a bullet from the gun of C. J. Harrison." The jury made no recommendation.

Harrison told the jury the shooting occurred in his home last week after Deist had called him and threatened: "I'll kill you."

Harrison said Deist arrived at his home in the evening and a scuffle took place. He added that he saw Deist reaching toward his pants pocket, and "realized it was going to be me or him."

Harrison said he then shot Deist. Police later found a gun under the victim's body.

The shooting followed filing of assault and battery charges, desertion and non-support and surety of the peace by Deist's wife. Police said Deist had thought Harrison set bond too high for the charges.

Nearly 1,000 Drivers Pay

Many Parking Fines In March

Nine hundred and seventy-six motorists paid a fine for violating the parking ordinance during the month of March. 46 were fined for speeding, eight were charged in sidemanic informations with driving while drunk, one was accused of driving recklessly, 29 were fined for violating one of the several traffic laws, and two of the eight charged with "drunken driving" were also charged with failing to stop following an accident.

In all, city police made 1,174 arrests, and fines and forfeits amounted to $1,900.25 for the month.

Two persons were arrested for larceny of a motor vehicle, one for possessing burglary tools, one for attempted larceny and 41 were arrested on charges in which liquor was concerned.

PREPARE FOR CLEAN-UP

Health Director Richard I. Davis has commenced hatching his plans for a quick and thorough clean-up of tin cans by city garbage employees. April 17, a schedule of truck operations is being prepared. Trucks will not dispose of any other rubbish. Private rubbish haulers are taking out permits at the city health bureau, and no doubt they will contribute much aid to the project. They will haul away ashes and debris to the Cascade street dump.

FIX CATCH-BASIN

E. Gene Schweinsberg's Department of Streets, has launched its catch-basin repair project. A large opening near Highland Avenue school has been so arranged that a small child cannot fall into the opening. He said today he has purchased rods which will be placed in such a manner that a child, unaware of danger, will find it impossible to crawl into the opening. According to reports, many catch-basins need barriers to prevent a possible fatality to some innocent child.

Mobile Laboratory For Air Pollution Tests Developed

HARRISBURG, April 12—A mobile laboratory for detecting air pollution was turned over to the State Health Department Tuesday. The unit is the first of its type developed.

The department's air pollution division will use the laboratory for on-the-spot investigation of air contamination.

The mobile unit was designed and built by the Mine Safety Appliances Co., of Pittsburgh.

Company President George H. Deike, Sr., at an informal ceremony presented laboratory keys to Gov. James H. Duff, Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux and Industrial Hygiene Bureau Director Joseph Shilen.

"We are going to do everything possible to prevent another smog tragedy like the one that claimed the lives of 22 persons in and around Donora in 1948," Duff said.

The governor said the unit will play an important part in the state's effort to free the atmosphere surrounding industrial areas from hazardous fumes, dusts and gases. In addition to community surveys, the laboratory will be available for industrial plant investigations.

Roosevelt Says He Will Not Run For Governorship

NEW YORK, April 12—(INS)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., has taken himself out of the New York State race for governor this year but some Democratic leaders believe he would go along with a draft.

The Democratic-Liberal congressman said at a news conference that he intended running only for reelection to his New York City congressional seat next fall.

The son of the late president said he had not heard of a draft-Roosevelt for governor movement. He would not say, however, whether he had been approached by labor leaders urging him to run on the State slate.

Republican Governor Dewey has not yet said whether he will be a candidate for reelection.

Drought And Insects Cut Crop Surplus

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—Drought and insects are doing their share in the government's drive to cut down on surplus farm crops.

The agriculture department says that dry weather, high winds and green bugs and red spiders have cut a prospective 885 million winter wheat crops almost 14 percent from earlier expectations.

The winter wheat crop is now expected to be about 764 million bushels. But the department says the loss might be even greater before all the wheat is harvested.

Government officials say the weather and insects will help in the nation's surplus farm production problems—what planting controls won't do bugs and drought—though they agree it is a rather harsh way of accomplishing that.

Still Huge Crop

With indications of 300 million bushels springing wheat crop, a winter crop of 764 million plus the present carryover of about 400 million bushels, the total wheat on hand after harvest is expected to be near a billion and a half bushels.

This is still a large crop compared with prewar, the experts say.

At the same time, the department says that U. S. wheat exports are falling off. Exports are expected to be about 350 million bushels this year. Domestic consumption of wheat is estimated at about 700 million bushels, thus the wheat stored over to next year would be about 380 million bushels.

The carryover, if spring and winter wheat outputs hold as predicted, then, would be about 100 million bushels shy of earlier department estimates.

New York Police Swing Into Action Against Dope Ring

NEW YORK, April 12—(INS)—A special police unit went into action Tuesday in New York to search out "pad joints" where high school boys and girls are inducted into the use of dope by well-financed rings said to have corrupted hundreds.

Ten detectives, including two women, were assigned to the Bronx borough, where the greatest increase in teen-ager narcotics addiction has been reported.

Garland H. Williams, district supervisor of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, said there has been a "substantial rise" in New York in use of dope since the end of winter last year.

The New York police department placed the increase at 10 percent and said it has occurred mainly among the young.

Among the young dope users the term "pad joints" is given to the centers where they congregate to buy narcotics because all windows and doors are padded—sealed—tightly with wadding to prevent the fumes from the "junk" from leaking out.

Police said the dimly lighted centers feature juke boxes and shoddy, garish decorations. Police Lieut. Bernard Boylan, in command of the narcotics bureau, said three small groups of distributor have been arrested in the past week.

The U. S. popcorn crop varied between 102 and 428 million pounds between 1944 and 1949.

Builders Honor Parents Tuesday

Chief Dinner Speaker
Youngstown Police

New Castle Chapter of Builders honored their fathers and mothers at the annual banquet staged in their honor in The Cathedral, Tuesday evening, which was attended by over 200. The speaker was Chief of Police Edward J. Allen, Jr., of Youngstown, O., who was much enjoyed.

Chief Allen, a former F.B.I. man, took as his theme, the "Prodigal Son," and related how he had wasted his substance. When he came to the end of his rope, he stated, he did what any other person would do, come to his senses, or turn to a life of crime to replenish his substance. In this case, he came back to his father, and was forgiven.

Mr. Allen stated that there are too many, who are turning to a life of crime, and turning away from religion, wasting not only their substance but their character.

Master Of Ceremonies
Randall Mooney, Senior Inspector of the Chapter did a splendid job as master of ceremonies. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the Welsh Congregational church.

The welcome was given by Master Builder David Lewis, Jr., in behalf of the Chapter, and by Ralph B. Hayes, in behalf of the Advisory Board. Jerry Pander entertained with piano selections; David Alter with a reading, while the Three Sharps and a Flat quartet, composed of Builders, gave some close harmony numbers.

Ralph D. Snyder, father of the Deputy Master Builders brought a message from the fathers; Floyd L. Cotton, Senior Overseer, for the Builders; and Mrs. David Lewis, Sr., mother of the Master Builder, for the mothers.

Mr. Hayes presented Don Turner with his Past Master Builders pin in behalf of the board and Sam Frank presented awards to Ralph Snyder, Floyd Cotton, and David Lewis, for outstanding service.

The committee which arranged for the successful event was composed of Floyd L. Cotton chairman, assisted by Dwight Ficus, Charles Gibson, James Maxwell, Joseph R. McFate, Jr., and Lawrence Slay with Lloyd Thompson assisting from the Advisory Board.

School Survey Is Considered

School Needs Survey Is Before Board

Definite steps towards a survey of the public school needs in New Castle were taken Tuesday night at the meeting of the New Castle School Board.

Dr. N. L. Englehardt, of the educational consultant firm of Englehardt, Englehardt and Leggett of New York City appeared before the board and presented his ideas of a school survey.

Dr. Englehardt showed the board reports of similar surveys in cities comparable to New Castle in size and said that his firm was prepared to do the work if desired.

He said their survey would take into consideration physical condition of buildings, economic condition, population trends and other factors going to show a complete picture of what is needed and where any new buildings should be placed.

Asked as to the possible cost of the survey he said he thought it would not go over $7500. If some clerical help were made possible here he said the cost would be cut perhaps by $1000.

Miss Betty Brown, representing the New Castle Chapter, Pennsylvania State Education Association was present and said the teachers here would be willing to assist in the survey.

In the regular order of business the matter was discussed and the board decided to explore the matter further with an idea towards seeing just what assistance the teachers would be willing to give and perhaps have a survey for a much lower figure.

Pointdexter Gets Year And One Day

School Board Delays Action

Postpones Action On Naming New Teacher

Election of a vocational mathematics instructor for senior high school was postponed Wednesday night at the meeting of the New Castle School Board.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton had recommended the election as a temporary employee of Max Richard Shope, of Snow Shoe, Pa., at a salary of $2400.

Director A. C. Hyde asked if this salary was not above the mandated salary and was told it was. Mr. Hyde said he felt it might cause some feeling among other teachers if this one was given an advanced rate to start. Dr. Burton explained it was difficult to get vocational mathematics instructors and that some premium had to be added to the salary in order to get them. The matter was finally postponed.

Permission was granted to the American Legion and the Universal-Rundle baseball teams to use the George Washington junior high school baseball field this summer.

The Legion is to have the use of the field Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and the Universal-Rundle Tuesday and Thursday.

Bills in the amount of $16,454.53 were approved.

Water Company
Asks EnjoinerReservoir Roadway
Claimed Blocked

In an equity suit filed in the office of Prothonary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, the City of New Castle Water company asks an injunction against the closing of a roadway leading to its reservoir. The suit is filed against James E. and Virginia Lehman.

The suit sets out that on May 5, 1881, the company purchased a 10-acre tract of land from Henry Crocker in Neshannock township for use as a reservoir site. With this deed went the right to a strip of land 1 1/2 rods wide leading to the highway.

Over 50 years ago the company claims it received permission to use another strip, a much more direct route to the Pulaski road, and has used this entrance since that time. In 1946 land near the reservoir was purchased by the defendants and they claim the strip which the water company uses as an entrance to the reservoir.

The company asks that the Lehman be restrained from blocking their right of way.

CLAIMS COMMISSION

William Buiney enters an equity suit against the Shenango Pottery asking that certain record books be produced to aid his case against the Shenango Pottery company asking for approximately $15,000 for a suggestion that reduced labor costs.

It is claimed by Buiney that in 1939 the company offered any employee ten per cent of any labor costs saved due to an employee's suggestion. Buiney claims he made such a suggestion and that the company adopted it and paid him some $1800. He claims that in 1948 he entered suit for approximately $15,000 claimed due him and now asks that the company be ordered to produce certain record books to support his claims.

SOME "DON'TS" AND "DO'S"
IN THUMB-SUCKING

Most children suck their thumbs or fingers at one time or another. Over the years, experience with thumb-sucking has shown that there are some pretty clear "don'ts" and some equally clear "do's" of which parents should be aware. First, the "don'ts"—

1. Don't use restraint—aluminum mitts, arms tied in sleeves, nasty substances on the thumb or fingers. The disturbing feeling that these cause in the child are far more harmful than the little sucking that he does.

2. Don't scold, punish, wheedle, bribe or reward. Such procedures give more importance to thumb-sucking than it deserves. And now the "do's"—

1. Do give the young baby more opportunity for sucking. Fix the nipple on his bottle so that he has to pull a little to get the milk. Even the old-fashioned pacifier has come back to it's own. Babies have an instinctive need to suck. If they don't get the opportunity in the normal course of events they're much more likely to turn to thumbs.

2. Be sure that older babies aren't bored with life. If they haven't good things to play with or are left alone too much, it's very natural for them to fill up the time with thumb-sucking.

3. If thumb-sucking continues until children are three, four or five, check on when it occurs. If it is only when they are very tired, ignore it. If it happens often, try to see what is lacking in day-by-day satisfactions. Usually, it's the unhappy child who turns to his thumb for satisfaction.

Spiced whipped cream is delicious on apple pie, apple betty, baked custard, and many other desserts. To make it just add a dash of cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves along with the sugar and vanilla you usually use to flavor the cream.

It takes 3000 cocoons to make a pound of raw silk. During Japan's peak years in the industry, her export of 73,000,000 pounds of raw silk a year was the lifework of some 220,000,000,000 silk worms.

DUTIES OF BRIDE'S MOTHER IN RECEIVING LINE

"My daughter will be married in June to a man who comes from a distant city. My problem is this: There will be a number of people at the reception who are strangers to me and I am wondering how I am to introduce them to the groom's mother when I do not know them myself. In our community people do not use their cards when entering and since I want to be as gracious as I can, will you please tell me just how this can be managed?"

Answer: You should head the line, as you know, and introduce guests to the groom's mother, thus: "Mrs. Smith, this is Mr. and Mrs. Jones."

If you do not know Mr. and Mrs. Jones of course you cannot introduce them. They should, therefore, introduce themselves to you and you should then, in turn introduce them to the groom's mother.

Question: What is the proper thing to do at the time of a son's engagement? My son will be formally engaged in June and I wish to do the proper thing at that time. What is the proper thing to say to a bride, bridegroom and parents?

Answer: Call on the bride and her parents, preferably within twenty-four hours after the announcement. Tell them how happy you are that your son is bringing their daughter into your family.

A bride should be given your good wishes while a groom should receive congratulations. Simply say something gracious as to how lovely their daughter looked in her wedding gown and what a fine couple the newly marrieds make to the parents.

Question: Who pays for the wedding flowers?

Answer: The bride's bouquet is given by the groom who usually supplies the flowers of the bride's attendants. Sometimes these latter flowers are sent by the bride's mother, which is also correct.

The Black Death, which hit Europe in the fourteenth century, is estimated to have carried off more than one-half the population.

Thiel Student Speaks To Lions

Exchange Student To Switzerland Heard

William Lefes, Thiel student, who spent last summer as an exchange student abroad, where he worked on Swiss farms and studied their agriculture methods, told of his experiences to members of the New Castle Lions club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castle Tuesday.

With Swiss farm land costing $1,000 per acre, nothing is wasted on a Swiss farm, and every inch of space is cultivated. Grazing land is too expensive, so the cattle spend most of their days indoors, being allowed out only about 10 hours a week for exercise, he stated.

Clover is cut five times a year, he stated, and every morning on one farm on which he worked, the first thing that was done was to cut enough clover for the cattle to feed on that day.

Principal Diet

The principal article of diet is potatoes. The highly fertilized Swiss farmland produces about 900 bushels per acre, and potatoes are eaten three times per day. Poultry is not eaten in Switzerland as in this country, and when a Swiss farmer butchers a beef, he sells the best part of the carcass, keeping only the seconds for himself. Rabbit is also an article of diet which is eaten more frequently than in this country.

During the early part of his stay, he worked on a farm in the northern part of Switzerland, and during the latter part, on a farm in the southern part. The climate was much different, although the two sections were only three hours train ride away. It was much warmer in the south, he stated, and the mountains were not as high. The land was cultivated clear to the top of the southern mountains, he related, and terraced farming was in evidence on all sides.

Discovery In A Wine Cask

THE observation that the level of fluids in his native wine casks could be ascertained by thumping, led Leopold Auenbrugger to study the same phenomenon in the human thorax and eventually he realized the possibility of determining the internal condition of the cavity by the sounds thus produced. Auenbrugger was one of the immortals of medicine; his discovery of percussion as a diagnostic measure inaugurated the art of physical diagnosis and led directly to Laennec's later invention of the Stethoscope.

It's just plain horse sense, isn't it, to suggest that steelworkers should belong to a steel union? They speak the same language, their problems are the same, they have a community of interests.

On Friday, April 14, you men of the Bossert plant will vote to decide what union shall be your bargaining agent. You work with steel, you turn out a fine steel product, why not join with the steelworkers' family in Lawrence county, the United Steelworkers of America, C.I.O.?

There are 8500 of us in the steelworkers' family in Lawrence county, members of the locals shown above. We know from experience what the USA can do for us. As members of that family we are interested in you, in your economic future, in the future of our community. We know the leadership of the United Steelworkers is intelligent, progressive and active.

Sure, you have heard promises in the past few weeks from other unions. You have been showered with them. Bigger and better everything! Pie in the sky and no rain on Sunday are about the only promises some of the slick talking strangers have missed.

Don't be fooled! Don't trade a job for a promise!

Why this sudden rash of interest in you by these strangers from Detroit, Cleveland and points west? Are they interested in you or are they interested in building a cushion for themselves?

In union there is strength, and the strength of unions in Lawrence county is in the United Steelworkers. Let's look at the record. The United Steelworkers membership in Lawrence county is 8500. The United Automobile Workers is less than 1,000. The International Association of Machinists is less than 800, and the Drop Forge and Blacksmith Union has not one member in the county.

Why not come into the family, the United Steelworker family, the largest union family in the county and the largest union in the United States?

Art Houtteman Regains Form Tigers Are Happy

By HOWARD SIGMUND

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 12.—Art Houtteman, a 22-year-old young man who tosses baseballs right-handed for the Detroit Tigers, may be one of the important factors in the Bengals "dark horse" bid for the American League pennant.

The six-foot-one-inch gamster who made a "Ben Hogan" return to baseball last season and won 15 games, appears ready to go on to greater things. It will be remembered that Art was seriously injured in an auto accident during the 1949 spring training session at Lakeland.

This spring, Houtteman has avoided accidents and done some real fancy hurling. He pitched a three-hit, 8 to 0 shutout win over Little Rock yesterday and may get the opening day assignment from Red Rolfe. Houtteman faced only 29 men yesterday.

The Tiger manager had other cause for joy. Ex-Yankee Charley Keller and ex-Bronx Jerry Priddy also starred. Keller drove in two runs with a homer and another pair with a double. Priddy belted a two-run round-tripper.

Yankees Win

The New York Yankees learned that Tommy Henrich's knee will be okay by opening day and then went on to top Indianapolis, 5 to 3. Joe DiMaggio tagged a three-run homer for the world champions in the first inning.

Vic Raschi toiled seven innings for the Yanks and Joe Page finished up.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine blanked the Greensboro Patriots 22 to 0 with one hit. The Dodger righty went until two were out in the eighth before giving up a single to Norm Wilson.

Indians Top Giants

Nine bases on balls and three errors helped the Cleveland Indians attain a 6 to 1 victory over the New York Giants.

The Tribe scored three runs each against Larry Jansen and Clint Hartung. Sad Sam Zoldak went all the way for Cleveland allowing eight safeties.

A six run rally in the ninth gave the Boston Braves a 10 to 6 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

Curt Simmons and Ed Wright blanked Memphis with two hits 9 to 0 for the Phillies. Mike Gollat hit two homers.

Dick Starr went all the way as the Browns topped Wichita Falls, 7 to 3. Starr and Roy Sievers contributed homers.

Pirates Edge Atlanta

The Pirates downed Atlanta 8 to 7 aided by four balks by Hugh Casey, who now chucks for the Crackers. The Red Sox and Louisville battled to a 5 to 5 tie in a game called at the end of the ninth.

The Athletics tied the Senators 7-7 in 11 innings. New Orleans beat the White Sox 4-3, and the Cardinals defeated the Cubs 5 to 0 in night games.

Section Six is accepted as the toughest basketball section in the WPAL. More contenders for the state title have come from its ranks than any other grouping in the WPAL.

FEED COWS HAY AS GRAZING STARTS

When the diet of cows changes materially—as when they are first turned out to pasture—the flavor of their milk also undergoes change. For that reason during the first few weeks of the approaching pasture season feed the cows before turning them out.

Also limit the pasture to two 20 to 30-minute periods daily at first, lengthening the periods gradually as the grass becomes less ungent and watery, and have hay in front of the cows at all times. This enables them to make maximum use of the grass and protects the digestive system. When cows are thus conditioned little flavor change in the milk will be noticed.

Remove stains made in table cloths right after the meal. The longer the stain stands the harder it will be to get it out.

Masked Gunmen Get $15,200 In Robbery

VALIER, Mont., April 12.—(INS)—Two masked gunmen forced the cashier of the First State Bank at Valier to open the vault Tuesday, bound and gagged him and fled with an estimated $15,200 in cash.

Sheriff's officers and the Montana State Patrol with the aid of three private planes scoured the area for the bandits.

Cashier N. S. Swanson told police the two bandits were waiting in a parked car when he arrived, pushed him into the bank building and then forced him to open the vault.

Packers Quitting Pro Floor League

NEW YORK, April 12.—(INS)—National Basketball Association president Maurice Podoloff announced Tuesday that the Anderson Packers have dropped out of the league.

He indicated that the circuit—which operated with 17 franchises this season, may be streamlined to ten or 12 teams in two divisions instead of three.

The NBA executive committee yesterday voted a $50,000 performance bond for each team to guarantee its continuance next season. The bond is expected to squeeze out several clubs which have been on shaky financial ground.

Podoloff announced an "important" league meeting will be held in Chicago on April 24.
